Filming and Photography PermitsDo I Need a Permit?*YES if ...

- ANY filming/still photography in which a profit is derived from the final product
- The project involves a customer on the site (wedding, sports, or senior pictures)
- The project involves product endorsement
- The project is shot at odd hours in odd areas

NO if ...

- Photos or filming is for personal use
- The project is a City co-sponsored activity

Miscellaneous Use Permit

Miscellaneous use permits are required for non-traditional activities occurring on Redmond Parks and Recreation Department (RPRD) property to ensure public health and safety and to protect natural resources and facilities. A "non-traditional park activity" means an activity, gathering, or use of RPRD properties, shorelines, or other recreational area that is not permitted by regulations. A Miscellaneous Use Permit is needed for such activities as:

- Large group gatherings and events
- Short and long-term rental of property and structures
- Commercial filming and photography (separate permit required)
- Educational and scientific projects
- Selling of goods and services by vendors, concessionaires and other businesses

The miscellaneous use permit is designed to accommodate uses that don't fit into any of our established programs.

Mailing List --
Are you on ours?

A general mailing to all families with Redmond addresses is made only for the Spring/Summer Recreation Guide. The Fall and Winter quarter Recreation Guides are mailed to all families who have participated in one of our programs within the last two years. You may pick one up at either the Redmond or Woodinville Libraries, or at the Old Redmond Schoolhouse Community Center. Set up a new account on-line at www.redmond.gov if you want to receive a copy or you may send us an email at: recreationoffice@redmond.gov.
